

Dyslexia and Foreign Language Learning

SOME SOFTWARE WHICH MIGHT BE USEFUL FOR DYSLEXIC LEARNERS

<http://www.softease.com/textease.htm>

Sophisticated word processing program with accompanying speech for young people

<http://www.cricksoft.com/uk/products/clicker/guide.htm>

Software which is often useful to dyslexic learners

<http://www.penfriend.ltd.uk/>

Software to help dyslexic learners

<http://www.assist-it.org.uk/assets/content/penfriendxl.htm>

Re: Penfriend

<http://linkwordlanguages.com>

Recommended by some Dyslexia organisations – suggests memory strategies to help students remember.

www.byki.com

Opportunities of overlearning and other strategies useful to dyslexic learners

<http://www.inspiration.com/>

A visual approach to learning and memorisation

<http://www.inclusive.co.uk/catalogue/acatalog/dyslexia.html>

Talking website

SOME OTHER WEBSITES WHICH OFFER ADVICE

www.dyslexic.com/language/htm

Information on language learning and dyslexia www.hull.ac.uk/languages/current/olc/dyslexia_guidelines_tutors.html

Guidance for student learners www.tomwilson.com/david/proj/

Gives information on research into MFL and dyslexia www.specialeducationalneeds.com

This is the main entry to previous site with a new address.

www.dyslexia-parent.com/mag46.html

Information for parents and carers

www.interdys.org

International Dyslexia Association –lots of useful information on dyslexia www.dylexiascotland.org.uk

Dyslexia Scotland site, currently under construction www.dyslexia-scotwest.org.uk

Dyslexia Scotwest

www.bda-dyslexia.org.uk

British Dyslexia Association

www.members.lycos.co.uk/discotland

Dyslexia Institute in Scotland

www.hilarymccoll.co.uk/dyslexia.html

This site